ENSURE THE SAFETY OF ALL BUILDING OCCUPANTS WITH NATIONAL MARKER'S GLOW SIGNS

North Smithfield, RI – As many people and companies reevaluate their energy costs, they continually look for new and innovative ways to reduce energy consumption and maintain high levels of safety. Major cities such as New York have acknowledged the need to improve energy consumption rates and instituted new laws to lower energy usage. NYC Local Law 86 is one of those laws. National Marker has been outfitting property managers in the city of New York for several years with photoluminescent signs and products to increase the safety of employees and residents. These products also comply with NYC Local Law 86 by nearly eliminating energy consumption costs of exit signs and egress markings.

The International Building Code (IBC) and International Fire Code (IFC) recently updated regulations requiring high-rise buildings to mark all doors, steps, landings, handrails, perimeters and obstacles. These same products meet IBC regulations without raising additional energy costs. National Marker is a leading manufacturer of safety identification products. To get more information about these products call us at 800-453-2727.
