UPDATE YOUR PIPE MARKERS TO MEET ANSI A13.1-2007

North Smithfield, RI - The American National Standards Institute (ANSI) regulates the color-coding of piping-systems. Labeling the contents of pipes alerts workers to potential hazards, reducing the risk of serious accidents, injuries and/or repairs. National Marker has hundreds of stock pipe markers to choose from with three different styles to match any size and style of pipe. In addition to these stock items, National Marker will also work with you to create a custom marker to fit exact pipe labeling needs. National Marker is a leading manufacturer of safety identification products. To get more information about pipe markers or other products call us at 800-453-2727 or visit nationalmarker.com.
